Special to Manila Bulletin

ZAMBOANGA CITY—OFFICIAL and city government officials have expressed surprise over the reported operation of offshore gaming in inland zones—a government project, which is about 22 km west of the city proper.

Mayor David Lim, vice-mayor of the Zamboanga City Administration, said, "I am surprised because we are not aware of this. It is not in the city proper."

"We, the Church in this city, are more about its role."

Mayor admitted to the report that was the first time he heard about the existence of Philippine Economic Zone Authority (PEZA) Special Economic Zone (SEZ) located inside the compound of the Zamboanga City Government Zone (ZCZ) and Special Economic Zone (SEZ) in Zamboanga City.

Cloody details

Based on its website, PEZA is "created by Republic of the Philippines' Zamboanga Special Economic Zone (ZSEZ) and has the Mayor's license to operate and control gaming and other gaming related activities conducted within and from the Zamboanga Special Economic Zone (ZSEZ)."

PEZA is a government-owned corporation for and intends to develop business in business operations in regions and provinces in the country.

"It is a project in the entire project of the development of gaming and a growing business in the Zamboanga Special Economic Zone (ZSEZ)," said its website.

Lim said he will inform Archbishop Ricardo Salazar regarding the existence of offshore gaming, but "as far as the Church is concerned, we have no gambling in this area, even if it is true."

If the Church is aware of the operation, some city government officials are not interested with the details of how to take it all about the operation.

Prequel

At first, City Mayor Lim said and Vice Mayor Lim said that they don't have any idea about the operation of any gaming project in the city.

But when they were asked about the online gaming in the ZSEZ project, Lim said that he has no idea about the operation of any gaming project in the city.

"There should be honesty in the operation and honesty in the operation," said Lim.

This online gaming is only for business clients," Lim said.

FRIDAY—SOPHIE LARSEN AND SERENA Williams both had to wait through more than five hours of rain to reach the second round at the French Open.

The big difference Williams brought today was rain, not wind, and she emerged looking like a new star.

"I was playing more patiently and I was doing what I've been practicing," said Williams, who eventually lost her first game to opponent Flavia Pennetta 5-7, 6-3, 6-1 Sunday.

Dry spell seen to push inflation up to 2.8%

But strong peso tempers surge in consumer prices

By Scott C. Dunlap

THE COUNTRY'S ANNUAL INFLATION IS EXPECTED to inch up in May over that of April, partly due to supply-related disruptions caused by the summer drought, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilapinas said yesterday.

BSRP Governor Amador Linares A said that the expected rise in May should fall between 2.1 and 2.6 percent—higher than the 2.3 percent year-over-year rate in April.

"The impact some slight rise in the May inflation rate will be," Linares explained. "Aside from the basic effects of the index-added rate," he pointed out, "there are other factors."

"Supply constraints in some areas will be a little less noticeable because of the dry spell," he pointed out, "but strong conditions and government policies remain a concern."

The BSP expects inflation this year to average below the official target of 4 to 6 percent, after 6.2 percent in 2006.

The peso has been hovering at its year-high due to strong external support, especially after the relatively successful defense of the month. The central bank has led to a monthly borrowing rate of 7.5 percent and its leading rate of 5.75 percent, more after inflation reached a 38-year low of 2.3 percent in March.

On May 23, it also widened the coverage of its short-term special deposit account window to step up funds.
